Section 1. The Use of Software

1. I do not provide for any legal services related to trademark prosecution or provision of legal advice. The Services, provided by Me to you, merely relate to enabling you to fill in the application form for the trademark prosecution. In case of office actions or provisional refusals that may appear in a trademark registration process I may propose you my services to respond on these issues for additional fees. I use information, created by lawyers, but Me, personally, no lawyer.

7. All registered works are listed by their hash data in the blockchain system. The hash data will help you to prove that you have registered your works with PatentBot. The only information visible to the public is the title of the work, the name of the author / artist / composer (or pseudonym), and the date and time of registration of the work. The directory does not allow the public to view or listen to your works. Also, your mention in the directory is not obligatory.
8. During the use of the PatentBot services, you agree not to impersonate anyone else.
9. I am not responsible for the authorship validity alleged by the PatentBot users. That's not what timestamping about. You confirm that you are the author of the work for which you register the copyright. You agree not to register any work that is the intellectual property of another. It is an offense to claim to be the creator of another person's work. If you knowingly upload works that are the intellectual property of another person, you must pay compensation for copyrights for any loss, damage or expense incurred by PatentBot. And I can ensure you that timestamping won't help you in such dirty things. More for that you can read here.
